Raising Funds for Mobile Teaching and Learning

Regulus Communications, Inc.
Mobile App Resources

We are Regulus Communications, Inc.

We design and publish mobile app networks for corporate training, video marketing, and mobile teaching and learning.

Our Mobile-App-Network-As-a-Service (Manaas) is a cloud-based program built on customized progressive mobile app technology for maximum user experiences and ease of management.

Our networks remove the expense and complexities from developing and maintaining customized in-house networks for employee training, video marketing, or mobile teaching and learning. Users of our networks can access resources from anywhere, at anytime, on any digital device, then cache a resource to their tablet or smartphone.

YAMweb® and the Young Author's Magazine Anthology® are registered trademarks and service mark of Regulus Communications, Inc., Lincoln, Nebraska USA.

YAMweb® is a private, secure real time electronic communication service over the Internet, for communications among parents, students, educators and schools, that are accessed by mobile communications devices, and an Internet website portal featuring links to student writers' literary works and information about such literary works, both featuring a wide variety of topics, all via a global computer network, via mobile telephone devices and networks, and via other electronic or digital communications devices and networks.
